I. INTRODUCTION

The primary purpose of this memorandum is to present a consolidated count of aircraft on all USSR and Satellite airfields covered by [] 25X1D missions of [] photography.* Technical procedures were established and precautions taken in order to insure a high degree of accuracy in reporting the presence of aircraft. However, no amount of special effort is sufficient to overcome all of the difficulties encountered. The limitations imposed by the small scale of the photography were severe, especially when attempting to identify fighter-type aircraft. Haze or clouds were frequent handicaps and in some instances made it impossible to detect any aircraft on airfields which were known to be active. In a few cases, camera malfunction made it difficult or impossible to identify or count aircraft. Difficulties were also encountered when an airfield appeared far out on the oblique.

After comparing aircraft counts [] 25X1D on this same photography as reported by various Service components it was decided to punch the several independent bodies of statistics on IBM cards.
The results are presented in the tabular appendix designated pages (1) through (136) of this memorandum. In addition to presenting a consolidated comparative tabulation of aircraft activity in the Soviet Bloc it is hoped that study of the differences in the various counts may aid in obtaining more accurate future aircraft activity data from such small scale photography. 25X1A

III. REFERENCE AIDS FOR IDENTIFICATION

In addition to the usual aircraft identification keys used for identifying aircraft, the following references were used for the purpose of locating and identifying airfields:

- (1) Appropriate volume of the Airfields and Seaplane Stations of the World
- (2) Air Facilities - Europe; Africa; Middle East
- (3) Air Facilities - USSR
- (4) World Aeronautical Charts
- (5) U.S. Target Complex Charts - Series 100
- (6) Various Mission Reviews and Photo Intelligence Reports of the Air Force, Army, and Navy.

IV. SYMBOLS AND ABBREVIATIONS

The symbols and abbreviations used in this report are to be interpreted as follows:

CAT - category number as used in Air Facilities. When runway definitely differed from that reported in Air Facilities, a new category number was devised using the same code of numbers as found in Air Facilities. When runway surface and length were unknown or doubtful, the code 800 was used.
